

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Sessile Serrated Adenoma/Polyp

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Sessile Serrated Adenoma/Polyp. NCI Thesaurus. Code C96414.

A polyp that arises from the large intestine and the appendix. It is characterized by the presence of serrated glands and the absence of generalized dysplasia. Some authors have suggested that it is a precursor lesion for some colorectal adenocarcinomas with microsatellite instability.