

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Recombinant Protein

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Recombinant Protein. NCI Thesaurus. Code C17081.

Proteins produced by genes or recombinant DNA that has been artificially engineered and inserted into a heterologous host. Recombinant proteins are used extensively by investigators of disease pathways to identify protein targets for potential drug therapies.