The research is good and presents a valuable objective, I just have some comments:

1- The authors mentioned microbiological sample collection and analysis in the materials and methods section, but no results are found for this title.

2- In the discussion section, the paragraph starting with: "The main objective of this study" should come earlier in the discussion.

3- More recent references should be added to the manuscript (especially from 2019 - 2024).
