

Review of: "Information Technology for Detecting Fakes and Propaganda Based on Machine Learning and Sentiment Analysis"

Jajam Haerul Jaman¹

1 Universitas Singaperbangsa Karawang

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

General Comments:

The research is quite comprehensive in terms of completion, approach, and methodology. The interdisciplinary collaboration makes this research more engaging.

Specific Comments:

- 1. It would be beneficial to expand this research by introducing additional challenges in understanding the concept of information, such as language, cultural nuances, and the evolution of disinformation tactics.
- 2. The presentation of data preprocessing could be more comprehensive, and computations of bias and variance in the dataset should be included to strengthen the results.
- 3. Create a model architecture in a visual format for easier understanding.
- 4. The results are too general; make them more specific to strengthen the answers to the research objectives.

Qeios ID: 9PASHR · https://doi.org/10.32388/9PASHR