I recommend major revision for this manuscript.

This manuscript requires many corrections. The abstract is too lengthy it must be revised and made in a more precise manner. Key word of the manuscript must be added.

The study area map must be added. The tables are not found and please add recent works on the heavy and various other hydro-chemical researches performed in similar regions. Methodology is too large it must be in a brief manner. Please elaborate the scientific gap and objective of the study. Discussion is too large, also mention the standard values for each physio-chemical parameters and elaborate on the health hazards caused by the various ions in a much detailed manner. For the conclusion make it more precise and add the remedial methods and mention how this research can be globally be beneficial.
