It is a crucial and multifactorial subject to study. Although the topic is chosen strategically, the authors should correct some significant issues in the manuscript's structure.

- 1) Authors need to restructure the abstract according to the journal instructions
- 2) We don't use the term "Emergency Room" anymore. Please use " ED" or " Department of emergency medicine."
- 3) Both the abstract and the method have some significant errors. The authors need to give more details about the method in the abstract. Please mention the universe of the study, what kind of ED you had, and the questionnaire or interview you used.
- 4) The introduction should be shorter and more detailed. Please revise the introduction and use some of this information in the discussion.

Thank you for your interest and hardworking.
