

Review of: "First long-term safety analysis of the ChAdOx1-nCoV-19 corona virus vaccine: results from a prospective observational study in priority vaccinated groups in North India"

Imad Naasani

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Due to the limited number of similar clinical studies, this article is worth publishing as the information observed are important for the public and healthcare officials. Presentation of the data using tables is not as easy to read as charts so I recommend summarizing the data in bar charts or something visual.