Review of: "Rethinking sanctification from Jacobus Arminius' point of view and its implication in Christian daily life"

Humaira Ahmad

1 University of Management and Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article lacks coherence and is very poorly composed. Moreover it does not follow any concrete argument to make any coherent understanding. Many sentences in the article do not make any sense. Moreover author needs to describe the significance of Arminius work in the contemporary understanding of sanctification for Christians. Hence it is necessary to mention the purpose of this research. On top of that the language of the article needs complete revision and rewriting in order to have an understating what author wants to say.