

Review of: "Post-Pandemic Reflections from Sub-Saharan Africa: What We Know Now That We Wish We Knew Then"

Vincenzo Auriemma¹

¹ University of Salerno

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper describes lessons learned from the COVID-19 pandemic in Africa regarding emergency preparedness to respond effectively to possible other infectious diseases. The strututration of the paper is different from the classic papers we are accustomed to, in my view it should be improved especially from the point of view of methodology, describing it, perhaps in a separate paragraph, in detail. This will enable the reader to get a clear picture of the purpose of the paper. Also, it would be appropriate to specify all the data in the introductory part of the paper. Finally, the discussion paragraph should be expanded to incorporate some of the data present throughout the paper.