

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Fetal Hypoxia

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Fetal Hypoxia. NCI Thesaurus. Code C50564.

Hypoxia in utero, caused by conditions such as inadequate placental function (often abruptio placentae), preeclamptic toxicity, prolapse of the umbilical cord, or complications from anesthetic administration.