

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Lambert Eaton Myasthenic Syndrome

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Lambert Eaton Myasthenic Syndrome. NCI Thesaurus. Code C3155.

A rare autoimmune presynaptic disorder characterized by impairment of the impulse transmission at the neuromuscular junction. It affects predominantly the proximal muscles of the lower extremities, resulting in muscle weakness and fatigability. It has been associated with small cell lung carcinoma.