

Review of: "Hanging on a Rope: The Current Triangular to Pentagonal Kinship Transformation in Simalungunese"

Monali Longmailai

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article "Hanging on a Rope: The Current Triangular to Pentagonal Kinship Transformation in Simalungunese" is well-researched, and the content is well-written. Overall, the article encompasses the triangular and pentagonal kinship structures and how they transform into the Simalungun social structure, especially in marriage and funerals. The work has given a background of the Simalungun community and a literature review on the given topic. The Conclusion could have specified the key points discussed from the context of Simalungun kinship rather than a general hypothesis alone.