

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Localized epidermolysis bullosa simplex

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Localized epidermolysis bullosa simplex. ORPHA:79400

Localized epidermolysis bullosa simplex, formerly known as EBS, Weber-Cockayne, is a basal subtype of epidermolysis bullosa simplex (EBS, see this term). The disease is characterized by blisters occurring mainly on the palms and soles, exacerbated by warm weather.