This is a very important study to investigate moral injury. Thank you for giving me an opportunity to review this paper. The abstract can be shortened to 350 words; avoid using mnemonics like MI in the abstract. The introduction can be shortened to three paragraphs only. In materials and methods, mention the study design. Prevalence assessment through a survey might not give an accurate estimate, I think; keep it as frequency. The denominator of the prevalence is not clear. Overall, a very good paper. Can be accepted after reviewing these minor comments.
