

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Congenital Varicella Zoster Infection

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Congenital Varicella Zoster Infection. NCI Thesaurus. Code C116799.

An infection, characterized by the rash of chickenpox or shingles, that is caused by the varicella-zoster virus transmitted directly from the mother to the fetus or neonate during late pregnancy or childbirth.