

Review of: "Perceptions of Academic Dishonesty: Insights from the University of Tehran"

Yulianti Yulianti¹

¹ Universitas Islam Jakarta

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear authors,

This article is attractive; however, there are a few things that need to be concerned:

1. The contribution of the study must be described in the introduction, such as for education, social impact, government policy making, etc.
2. The paper needs to demonstrate the relevant literature. Furthermore, this research needs to add the latest literature. The latest literatures include Aeni, B.; Zohouri, M.; Mousavand, M. (2023); Sarfi, M., Darvishi, M., Zohouri, M., Nosrati, S. & Zamani, M. (2021); Shahghasemi, E., Sabbar, S., Zohouri, M., & Sabzali, M. (2023); Zohouri, M.; Sabzali, M.; & Golmohammadi, A. (2023).
3. Methodology: This article used the Faculty of Psychology and Educational Sciences, the Faculty of Management, and the Faculty of Social Sciences as the population. Do these faculties have special criteria that need to be used in this research?

Please review the existing sampling frame, as this article appears to use several sampling techniques.

4. Please make the conclusion sharper.