After reviewing the research entitled (bent functions and strongly regular graphs), I would like to point out the following observations:

- 1) The literature review of the research topic needs more detail.
- 2) A number of references were not used in the research despite their presence in the list of references.
- 3) The research needs more applied examples because they will help the reader more in understanding the research topic.
- 4) A number of definitions and theorems need further clarification.
- 5) The conclusion and future works were not discussed.

In general, the research will be suitable for publication after making the above amendments.
