

Review of: "Sustainable Agriculture and Climate Resilience in Türkiye: A Comprehensive Analysis"

Dagninet Amare¹

¹ Amhara Regional Agricultural Research Institute

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear authors,

Thanks for the initiation to comprehensively highlight Turkey's sustainable agriculture and climate resilience knowledge and practices. Yet the manuscript seems a perspective or personal opinion from the authors. To begin with the abstract is long and the final sentences shy away from making concrete conclusion and suggestions. Citations in the initial paragraphs are almost nonexistent and the introduction is too long. Overall it is difficult to read and understand without clear sections. I first advise the authors to break the document into sections, avoid redundancies and possibly shorten (by removing unnecessary extension, redundancies and appendix some of them). Then it becomes clearer for responsible reviewing.