

Review of: "Intelligent Transportation System Real-Time Tracking"

Paria Sadeghian<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Dalarna University College

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is indeed intriguing but requires some revisions to address the following points:

Title: The article's title should be changed to better reflect its content.

Language and Grammar: The language and grammar in the manuscript need improvement as there are several errors that need to be corrected.

Conclusion: The conclusion should be made more precise, ensuring that it effectively summarizes the main findings or arguments presented in the article.

Future Scope: It would be beneficial to include a section discussing the potential future directions or areas of further exploration related to the topic discussed in the article.

Literature Section: A separate section dedicated to reviewing the relevant literature should be added, providing an overview of previous research and studies related to the subject matter.