I like the review topic because deepfakes and misinformation are the current issues facing the world.

I give you comments to enhance the impact of this review work:

1. Focus on detection methods to identify deepfakes and misinformation, through considering modern, simplicity of use, cost, and time-effective techniques.
2. The keywords should be a concise summary of your paper's content. Also, recommend three to five keywords.
3. From your future directions and recommendations concerning the landscape of deepfakes, which are the top three for implementation?
4. Why are you separating other references from the main reference?
5. Generally, correct the comments above, and then this review work will have a contribution to society if published.
