Dear Editor,

Thank You very much for the proposal to review this article. In my opinion, this is a well-described manuscript with all parts of scientific works: abstract, introduction, clinical presentation, clinical behavior, microscopic features, immunohistochemistry and genetics, and references. The last part is current. The positions are from 1996 to 2021 years. In my opinion, on the figures is a lack scale bar (the magnification is in descriptions under figures). Not all photos all the best quality, e.g., fig. 1 and fig.2. Please change this part. Figure 5 is the best.

I haven't any other remarks.

Regards
