

Review of: "[General Review] Digital Transformation of Government Public Library Services in Bangladesh"

Woochun Jun

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This study is a basic study for providing digital services to government public libraries in Bangladesh. In other words, this study described the current status of digital transformation of public libraries on various continents around the world, described obstacles to digital transformation of public libraries in Bangladesh, and proposed various plans for digital transformation.

This study is a very important study for the digital transformation of public libraries in Bangladesh and can be seen as of high value. However, the following modifications are recommended to increase the completeness of this study.

This study described some general obstacles to the digital transformation of public libraries in Bangladesh. It is necessary to describe more detailed obstacles or improvements through literature research or expert interviews, and various measures or plans for digital transformation also need to be proposed in more realistic ways to solve the problem for each obstacle.