Social smoker identity

Addiction Ontology

Addiction Ontology

Definition: A self-identity in which the person considers themselves to smoke predominantly or exclusively in social situations.

Comment: This is not a subclass of tobacco smoker identity because not all social smokers may consider themselves to be smokers as they do not smoke sufficiently often. This class is intended for tobacco smokers.

This definition was imported from the Addiction Ontology (see <https://addictovocab.org/>). Comments and suggestions for improvements are welcome using the Qeios review system.

Definitions imported from the Addiction Ontology (AddictO) are what are known as 'ontological definitions'. See this article in Qeios for an explanation <https://www.qeios.com/read/YGIF9B>.

Ontological definitions can sometimes be hard to read. In those cases we also include an informal definition.

Definitions also often require elaboration to make it clear how they should be used and what they include. In those cases we include a comment.

Also, definitions sometimes require an explanation as to how they came about to help users understand how they relate to alternative definitions. In those cases we include a curator note.
