1. It is necessary to review related previous research and the gaps need to be further clarified.
2. It is necessary to add a conclusion as a final decision or judgment an opinion on the finding result in the discussion.
3. The information is very useful but maybe the number of samples needs to be enlarged because based on the article, the data is considered to represent the country of China in terms of the number of covid patients however, this article is also useful to read, it just needs to be improved
