I appreciate your effort to fill such a methodological gap. That is an interesting way of framing the topic, and it is also readable and clear as well.

I have small comments to improve the paper:

Stick to capitalization uniformity. For example, "sense of Responsibility" on construct 7.

Put the figure for PBM on one single page for good readability.

The abbreviation "FEMA" was mentioned for the first time and not defined. Define it first, and then you can use the short then.

In general, I liked the paper and the way the text was written.
