Review of: "Can ChatGPT code the technical part of a Bachelor's Thesis in Informatics?"

Muhammad Aswad[1]

1 Universitas Sulawesi Barat

Dear Editor

This is some feedback for this paper

1. The abstract should be started with an opening sentence showing the gap in the literature.
2. There are many grammatical and typographical problems within the text. The language of the article needs a detailed proofreading.
3. The article should be enriched by adding more updated references.
4. In the conclusion part, the implications of the findings have not been presented satisfactorily.
5. Based on the limitations imposed on the study, more suggestions for further research need to be presented.
6. The references list should be revised based on the guidelines of tools manager references such as Mendeley, etc.]

The authors are recommended to report more implications of the study, any limitations they encountered during this study, and some suggestions for future researchers.

Note: I need recognition from this review, such as a reviewer certificate.

Thank you.

Best regards,

Assc. Prof. Dr. Muhammad Aswad, M.Pd