

Review of: "Using the Altman Z-Score Model to Forecast the Financial Distress of a Subset of NIFTY 50 Companies in the Indian Stock Market"

Fred Ojochide Peter¹

¹ Landmark University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The Abstract should undergo refinement to encompass key elements such as the problem statement, purpose, methodology, findings, and recommendations

Regarding the Statement of the Research Problem, there is a need to better position its role within the study. The statement should offer a comprehensive explanation, focusing on identified gaps, and should align seamlessly with each objective.

The Literature Review section requires enhancement. It is essential that the student provides a thorough and inclusive overview of the research field base on current literature.

A thorough review of all citations is necessary to ensure accurate referencing. Many citations are currently not properly referenced

Additional Context for Studies: While the descriptions provide a basic overview of each study, adding a sentence or two to briefly explain the significance or implications of each study's findings could enhance the reader's understanding.

Synthesize Findings: Instead of presenting each study as a separate entity, consider grouping the studies based on common themes or findings. This could help readers see the broader trends in the research landscape.

Grammar and Punctuation: Check for proper punctuation and capitalization, and ensure that the descriptions are clear and concise