Review report of "Sectoral GDP and Tax Revenue: a Panel Data Analysis":

1. The abstract needs to be rewritten
2. Many sentences and paragraphs lack references.
3. The introduction is weak. This section needs to be expanded.
4. In the introduction section research question and the motivation of the study is not clear.
5. The literature review section should be added to the manuscript.
6. The methodology is weak and old. The authors should use new methods.
7. Support your results (in Analysis section) with relevant studies. This section needs more explanation.
8. The author should provide more information in the Conclusion and Policy Implications section with regard to review literature in order to create an adequate background for other research studies.
