Dear author,

General

This is an important topic. Is this study a narrative review or systematic review? The author should comply the PRISMA checklist for reporting, a review article.

Abstract

The conclusion hasn't answered the study's objective (describe the characteristics of severe skin reactions). The reason for choosing this specific condition hasn't been explained.

Method

The author should provide the flow diagram (<https://prisma-statement.org/prismastatement/flowdiagram.aspx>). A flow diagram that maps out the number of records identified, included and excluded, and the reasons for exclusions.

Discussion

The author should provide the result and discuss it accordingly.
