

Review of: "Technological Advancement and Changing Skills: Imperative for a Paradigm Shift in Education Delivery in Zambia"

Jacob Vargas-Arteaga¹

¹ Universidad Simón Bolívar

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Thank you for the invitation to review this document.

I would like to express my congratulations to the author for the revision work he has developed in the document, in this regard I would like to give some appreciations:

1. The article is relevant and presents a topic of interest for academic communication in this field of study.
2. The document presents coherence and a logical structure that makes it understandable.
3. The document provides theoretical elements of interest to the field of knowledge, however, some of the references used are more than five years old. Given the growing literature on this subject, more recent references should be used.
4. The summary must conform to the IMRD methodology.
5. The methodology used in the literature review should be made explicit and the procedure and databases consulted should be mentioned. Similarly, quantitative data of the bibliometric study, if it has been carried out, should be included.
6. The results shown in the review should be included in a section with that title and an introductory paragraph should be written explaining the theoretical categories in which those findings fall.
7. Adjust the conclusion with more in-depth comments that take up the objective of the article and relate possible emerging lines of work.

Those general appreciations on the paper. The manuscript is suitable for publication if the author considers the observations.