

Review of: "'Women come out for less important tasks': Understanding the reality of the gendered transport sector in Karachi through Key-Informant Interviews"

Mudassira Sarfraz¹

¹ University of Warsaw

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper addresses an important topic regarding women's mobility. Author utilizes qualitative data analysis technique to explore the perceptions of transport experts towards the state of transport and mobility barriers faced by women in the context of Karachi. The analysis is carried out quite efficiently and up to the mark. Paper presents interesting insights on the issue how urban transport and women's mobility are linked with each followed by policy recommendations.