Greeting and thank you

This manuscript contains valuable data and expresses an important issue and concern. A lot of strong statistical work has been used. It is suggested to be reviewed by a statistician. Some detailed comments are given below.

Abstract: The content of methods section is related to the results section, be given in the results section. It is suggested that the methods section be rewritten again (type of research, sample size, sampling method, measurement tools and how to collect and analyze data should be briefly stated).

Methods:

Please clearly explain the sampling method.
