Good work done by the authors.

The following are my observations:

1. Some specific suggestions through the research outcomes shall be added to the abstract.
2. Add recent relevant literature.
3. Emphasis shall be given to existing research as well as the proposed research.
4. The methodology, if presented in a flowchart, may attract the readers.
5. The workers' traits such as age, experience, and competency may be included for determining the quality of the road.
6. The collected data may be used for model development using artificial neural networks, which would be helpful in decision making.
7. The conclusions & recommendations are very generic.
