The manuscript contains interesting information, but needs important modifications to make it easier to read and understand.

Remarks:

Abbreviations should be defined (e.g., VOC and RBD in the abstract section are not).

Several statements in the manuscript lack reference; the figure 1 is not well indicate and lacks reference.

I suggest the author review the structure of the manuscript, separate it by subtopics (e.g., mutations, vaccines, antibodies, etc.), and make sure to add the references and designate the figure correctly.
