

Review of: "Nigerian Youths' Perception of Privacy and their Self Disclosure on Social Media"

Pius Onobhayedo¹

¹ Pan-African University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

At the intersection of social media, privacy, and self-disclosure, I think that there are a lot more recent articles that the authors could have cited. Their citations seem too old to me compared to the possibilities. A search on databases like Ebscohost for self-disclosure + social media + privacy should return a good number of more recent publications that the authors could factor in.