Spastic Paraplegia 11

National Cancer Institute

Source

An autosomal recessive condition caused by mutation(s) in the SPG11 gene, encoding spatacsin. It is a complicated sub-type of hereditary spastic paraplegia that has varying neurologic manifestations in addition to spasticity.