

Review of: "An accuracy test of Altman and Zmijewski accounting-based bankruptcy models"

Dr. Teg Alam

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I have thoroughly reviewed the paper titled "An Accuracy Test of Altman and Zmijewski Accounting-Based Bankruptcy Models." The topic is engaging, and the outcomes and discussion are promising. I have provided some constructive feedback, including:

1. Ensure there is a full stop or comma at the end of each equation, and assign a numeric number to each equation.
2. I recommend that the authors carefully read the entire manuscript and rectify any typographical or grammatical errors.
3. Ensure the review of recent research for the literature review and make necessary revisions.
4. Overall, the manuscript needs significant revision in almost all sections.