Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The introduction should be edited as many data given without explanation of the connection of the data and sexual harassment.
2. Perhaps add some background by giving a few cases of children's harassment in Indonesia or globally
3. Perhaps the author could add a few literature or research that have been done pertaining to research.
4. The method should be explained and justified so that the readers know how the primary data obtained.
5. Perhaps the author could justify the FGD respondents
6. Although suggestions are given by the author, perhaps make explanation and justifications on the approach suggested.
7. Overall, it is significant research and highly recommended.
