The research questions in this paper are clear and the abstract is complete.

However, in my opinion, the article does not have enough depth of content, especially the issues mentioned in the abstract are not deeply researched. This is manifested in: the case floats on the surface, more like some rough undetailed outline, and the lack of target; lack of quantitative data, I hope to be able to add some data to illustrate; recommended to increase the theoretical basis; recommended to add references, the current references are very lacking.
