Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The research work carried out is of scientific interest, as it can lay the foundations for future research on anger in the prison population and its relationship with recidivism.

Some meta-analyses are included that serve to analyse the work carried out in this area, which can provide us with a global vision of the state of science on this subject.

Perhaps it would be of interest to include the estimated number of meta-analyses carried out in recent years on this subject, as this would provide a clearer estimate of the impact of this work.

I would also like to see ideas for future research. Once the research gap is detected, it seems consistent to be able to make a research proposal or what could be the future lines of study in this area. I would also like to find the limitations of the study, as it is a very specific objective and focused on gathering information on meta-analyses carried out.

Finally, I recommend reviewing the citations in APA7, although most of them are correct, I have found some small errors.

I hope these suggestions are received positively and help the author to improve her work.
