This is my contribution after having read the document titled "A Method for Discriminating Equities Based on Sustainability Criteria in an ALM Process Designed for Practitioners"

1. The abstract doesn't present the results and conclusions of the work.
2. The wording is a bit confusing because there are times when the meanings of the different acronyms used in the text are not defined.
3. In figure 1, it is necessary to present the labels that correspond to each axis, and in figure 2, they must be presented more legibly. Figure 2 should be mentioned as a figure since it is presented as a graph in the text.
4. The writing of the document ends abruptly without mentioning in the conclusions the recommendations and implications that this method may have.
5. I consider that after these changes, the article can be published.
