In the abstract part, the problem is mentioned, but the purpose and method are not mentioned. When the purpose and method are not mentioned in the abstract, it is not known in which direction your work will go. These should be added.

According to UNESCO data, Indonesian people's interest in reading is very worrying, only 0.001%. This means that only 1 out of 1000 Indonesians is an avid reader!

There is a error in this sentence, it should be written as 0.1% in one thousandth, or it should be written as 0.001, without using the % sign, choose one.

introductory chapter éKBBI defines "growth" n thing (state) this sentence is not easy to understand.

"In keeping with the above background, the method used in compiling this journal is descriptive quantitative. This journal was created by collecting, categorizing and presenting the latest data based on literature review."

The concept of journal is used incorrectly instead of the concept of this article.

The subject is good, the problem is defined, but seeing it as a study that can contribute to science outside of literature. The structure of the study is weak. It is unclear exactly what is being attempted. Conclusion and discussion, suggestions section is insufficient.

Desicion: major correction
