

Review of: "Toxicological evaluation of aqueous extracts of Clematis hirsuta and Rhamnus prinoides"

T.A. Mohammed Muayad¹

¹ University of Technology - Iraq

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It's a valuable study. This study holds significant importance for several reasons, such as Public Health Concerns, Medicinal Applications, Regulatory Considerations, Ecological Impact, Scientific Knowledge, and Public Awareness. Overall, the toxicological evaluation of aqueous extracts of Clematis hirsuta and Rhamnus prinoides is essential for assessing their safety, determining their potential medicinal applications, and making informed decisions regarding their use in traditional medicine or other applications.

The plagiarism test and the language are good.

Title: Good

Abstract: Good. However, the findings need to be mentioned in the abstract.

Background: Good and contained the importance of the study, previous studies, and the aim of the study. However, when using the recent study, no need to mention the old one unless they have a novel information.

Methods: Good.

Results: Good. It's well recorded and measured.

Discussion: Good.

Conclusions: Weak. It needs more. Explain about two paragraphs to be more clear and useful.