Dear Editor in chief of "Qeios" journal

With special thanks for sending a manuscript to be reviewed, the study, entitled, "Medical students' disease status of COVID-19: A multicenter study", Qeios ID: W83SD7, is concerned with the prevalence of COVID-19 in medical school students' in the Punjab region of Pakistan. The manuscript is well written, but it is suggested that edited by a native English speaker. I have suggested the following corrections and questions in the hope that they will help improve the article.

- 1- The timing of sampling is not clear in the methods. Please be specific it.
- 2- Inclusion and exclusion criteria are not indicated in methodsection.
- 3- Only the first word and proper nouns should be capitalized. Please correct them.
- 4- Suggest to show selected areas on Punjab map.
- 5- At the beginning of the conclusion, it is better to include general statistics on the prevalence of COVID -19 infection among medical students.
