

Review of: "How Competent are Health Professionals in Delivering Nutrition Education? A Cross-Sectional Study in Ebonyi State, Nigeria"

Fitriana Mawardi¹

¹ Universitas Gadjah Mada

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The research topic is interesting related the health professionals' competencies in nutrition education.

In the introduction section, the author can improve related prevalence of nutritional problem in the worldwide.

The reason the author choose three hospitals is not clear. The balloting of sample is high for bias.

The selection criteria of health professional is not clear. Please provide information related inclusion and exclusion criteria.

The competency can be defined as a specific, identifiable, definable, and measurable knowledge and skill. The skill of the health professional can not be assessed only through the instrument. It have to measure by observation or practice.

In the discussion section need to be improve related the impact of length of practice and level of education to the competency of health professionals.