Review of: "New Method to Identify Potential Illegal Water Use Location by Using Remote Sensing and Neural Networks in Laguna de Aculeo, Chile"

Ammar Dawood

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear author,

For the author: A few small adjustments need to be made to your article in reference to RS and AI. In light of the fact that water bodies are included in the LULC classification, it is necessary for it to demonstrate an association between the investigated indices and the classification. Because the ANN is not presented in a straightforward manner in the paper, additional explanations are required.