Review of: "Towards Responsible AI-Assisted Scholarship: Comparative Assessment of Generative Models and Adoption Recommendations"

Debraj Sen[1]

1 Armed Forces Medical College

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is well-researched, relevant, insightful and covers the entire gamut of issues pertaining to incorporation of AI technology into scholarship/ academia. It has highlighted the strengths and weaknesses of the various AI platforms, and the areas that require attention and action by different stakeholders. The authors are complimented on their efforts and contribution.