Full Width at Half Maximum

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Full Width at Half Maximum. NCI Thesaurus. Code C94903.

A measure of resolution used when a system's response y (such as image-displayed activity concentration) to an ideal infinitely narrow spatially distributed input shows a width in its values surrounding a maximum when plotted against a locating variable x (such as distance relative to this input location).