

Review of: "A Simple Dynamic Model for Daily New Cases of COVID-19"

Jyotir Moy

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The abstract needs to be re-written focusing on the main research results received.
2. The document needs thorough proofreading as it has lots of typos and grammatical errors.
3. The introduction does not present the main research contribution in an elaborated way.
4. The literature review is weak, authors are suggested to include quality works from 2021-2022 in more amount.
5. The proposed work needs to be compared with some existing state-of-the-art works from 2021-2022 for a better understanding of the capabilities of the proposed work.
6. The conclusion lacks detailed elaboration of the work presented and the possible future work of the existing work is missing.