

Review of: "“Saving the Forest” with a REDD+ Project: Socio-Ecological Repercussions on Indigenous People in Cambodia"

Anoradha Chacowry

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

In my point of view, the author has addressed an interesting topic on forest conservation.

However, some changes are needed to make it more understandable to readers.

1. When using acronyms such as ASEAN, NATO, the first time in the manuscript, they should be written in full.
2. The methodology is somewhat vague.
3. More details are needed on how information was gathered with the villagers and protagonists.
4. What themes were addressed in the personal narratives' interviews?
5. Conclusions do not significantly reflect ideas that have been stated in the Results and Discussion section. They should be refocused.